This fact sheet is for new plans, or plans reassessed from 3 October 2024.

How we create your plan

We create your plan based on your individual support needs for the impairments that meet the disability and or early intervention requirements. We'll use the information you give us about your lived experience and how your disability impacts your day-to-day life.

We will:

- get to know you and discuss your situation
- ask you about your goals, or things you want to work towards
- think about what supports your family, friends, community and other government services can provide
- think about any NDIS supports you may need

- review any information gathered by your community partner if they supported you to apply to the NDIS
- ask for further information about your support needs if we need to
- meet with you to approve your plan
- send your plan to you.

You can ask other people to help you if you want to. For example, you can have friends, family or an advocate join any conversation we have with you. They can also help you make your own decisions about your plan.

We use the information you give us as evidence to help us decide what NDIS supports to include in your plan. Sometimes we may ask for more evidence to support funding an NDIS support. We may not be able to fund an NDIS support if we don't have enough evidence to support including it.

Setting goals in your NDIS plan

We need to know your goals and aspirations so we know how we can help you.

Your goals are your own and tell us about the things you'd like to do. You can have as many or as few goals as you want.

Your goals can be big or small, short term or long term, simple or complex. They can be about anything you want to work towards.

You may express your goals broadly, or you may have specific goals. For example, one of your goals might be to 'live independently', and another might be 'to have an accessible bathroom'.

You, or your plan nominee or child representative set your goals and tell us what information you want to include about your life.

If you want, your family and friends who support you can also give us information about their life.

How we decide on NDIS supports in your plan

We fund NDIS supports that relate to your disability. NDIS supports are the services, items and equipment we fund under the NDIS.

Your plan is specific to your individual situation. This means that the NDIS supports in your plan will be different to the NDIS supports in someone else's plan.

The NDIS supports we fund in your plan need to meet all the NDIS funding criteria.

Your NDIS supports are just one part of your plan. Your plan also has information about supports provided by your family, friends and community, and other government services. We want to make sure all these parts of your plan work together to meet your disability-support needs and help you pursue your goals.

How we include NDIS funding in your plan

Your plan will include:

- a total funding amount
- funding component amounts, and
- funding periods.

Total funding amount

This is the total amount for all reasonable and necessary supports funded in your plan. We'll call this a 'total budget amount' in your plan.

We develop the total funding amount by using the information you gave us and the NDIS funding criteria.

For each reasonable and necessary support, we look at:

- if you share this support with anyone
- how much of this support you need, including hours, items or equipment
- how often you need this support, including days, weeks, months or years.

We use price limits to help participants and disability support providers understand how price controls for supports and services work in the NDIS. You can find more information in the NDIS Pricing and Price Limits guide on the NDIS website.

We then work out the funding for each support and combine these amounts to arrive at your plan's total funding amount.

Funding component amounts

The funding component amount or amounts is funding for a specific support or group of reasonable and necessary supports in your plan. This is the total amount of funding you have for these supports over the full length of your plan. You can only use this funding for the NDIS supports included in each funding component.

We are updating our computer systems. Until we complete these updates, your funding component amounts will look the same as the current support categories within core, capacity building, capital and recurring budget types.

Funding periods

The funding period is the time that a part of your funding becomes available and how long it needs to last. You can spend up to the amount of funding that is available in that time. We will tell you in your plan when each funding period starts and ends.

If you don't spend all your funds in a funding period, it will rollover into your next funding period within the same plan.

Learn more about how to use your funding on the NDIS website.

If you would like more details about the NDIS supports that make up the total funding amount in your plan, you can ask us to send this to you. We can give you this if you have a new or reassessed plan approved after 3 October 2024.

How your NDIS funding is managed

We'll talk with you about how you want to manage your funding during your plan meeting.

There are different ways the funding in your plan can be managed. You can:

- self-manage
- use a registered plan manager
- have the Agency manage your plan, or
- have a mix of these options.

You can manage your funding the way you want to, unless it would be an unreasonable risk to you. For example:

- if you or your plan nominee are bankrupt or insolvent, or
- you're unlikely to spend your funding on only NDIS supports and in line with your plan

There are also some NDIS supports that must be Agency-managed.

How long your plan will go for

We are updating our computer systems. Until we complete these updates, your plan will be for 12 months. This means your funding periods will also be for 12 months.

Once we update our computer systems, we'll be able to make your plan longer or shorter if needed.

Your plan will say when we must do a plan reassessment, if we haven't reassessed your plan before this.

When we approve your plan

We'll approve your plan as soon as we reasonably can. In some cases, we can do this during your plan meeting.

We aim to approve your first plan within 56 days, or within 90 days for a child under 9.

If we need more information from you, this might mean it takes longer to approve your plan. Depending on your situation, we might decide to approve your plan so you can start using it right away and make changes later.

We'll send you a copy of your approved plan within 7 days, in the way you'd like to receive it. We can also send it to anyone else you ask us to share your plan with.

Once you have your plan, you can start using it to buy your NDIS supports. We'll also offer you a plan implementation meeting to help you start using your plan.

For more information, read Our Guideline – Your plan on the NDIS website.

If you want to change your plan

If your situation changes after we approve your plan, your plan might need to change to make sure it still works for you.

You can talk to your my NDIS contact, support coordinator or recovery coach about the changes you need. You might need to give us more information to explain why you think your plan needs to change. Learn more about what evidence you need to give us before we create or change your plan on the NDIS website.

If you don't agree with the decisions we've made about your plan, you can ask us for an internal review.

You can do this up to 3 months after your plan is approved. Your my NDIS contact can help you to ask for an internal review and gather any information or evidence you'll need. For more information, read Our Guideline – Reviewing our decisions on the NDIS website.
